Southeast News.

It is reported that 700 cars of watermelons and 50,000 baskets of cantaloupes were shipped from Morley this season.

The Bloomfield Vindicator says there are thirty divorce cases on the docket for the September term of Circuit in Stoddard county.

Oak Ridge Indicator.
John Statler, who lived about 6 miles west of here, was found dead in the stable yesterday morning. The cause of his death is unknown.

Malden is to vote on a proposition, at a special election to be held October 4, to bond the town in the sum of $29,000 to be used in enlarging and improving the water works and electric light plants.

Farmington News.
While fishing in the Platin creek north of Bonne Terre, Monday night, James and William Kobel, brothers, were drowned. They were in a boat, which upset in about thirty feet of water, and the brothers sank before assistance could reach them.

Flat River News.
Chicken thieves have been making some good hauls in Flat River within the last week. The roosts of Henry Rehkop, A. W. Armbruster, Dr. Haney and Dr. Griffin have been visited. Saturday night Mr. Rehkop lost a large number. Chicken stealing at night is a penitentiary offense in this state.

Desloge Sun.
Last Tuesday evening the south bound M. R. & B. T. train leaving Riverside at 7:05, ran down and killed Stephen Sweet, just north of Festus. Sweet was living at Crystal City, and why he did not heed the approaching train is not known.

Both of his legs were severed just below the knee and he lived only a short time after the accident.

Cape Girardeau News.

One Missouri county, Platte, will market this year nearly three million pounds of white barley tobacco, nearly all of which was raised by farmers from Kentucky who have removed to Missouri since the night rider wars began. They say the tobacco is fully equal to the Kentucky product and the yield greater. In Missouri it is a rare thing for the yield to run below 1800 pounds to the acre, while in Kentucky such an average is the high exception.

Deater Messenger.

The first load of Stoddard county cotton of 1909 growth was marketed at Essex on Wednesday evening of last week, September 1. It was grown by J. B. Wamble, just south of Essex, and was sold to W. J. Hux for 4 cents per pound. This was unusually early for cotton in this section, and was nine days earlier than the first load of cotton of the growth of 1908. The 1908 load was raised by F. M. Reed, two miles east of Dexter and was sold to Ladd & Co., of this place. The price and bonus received amounted to $5.70 per hundred pounds.

Fredericktown Democrat News.

Sheriff Chapman returned Friday from East St. Louis where he went to bring back the man who was arrested in that city, charged with stealing mules from George Tucker, of Mine la Motte. The man proved to be Fred Clark, who originally lived in Wayne county. He stated so we are informed by Sheriff Chapman, stealing the mules and Mr. Tucker went to East St. Louis, proved up his mules and brought them back to his place at Mine la Motte. Clark says he took the mules from a pasture near the mines. He is a man about 55 or 60 years of age.

Fredericktown Democrat News.

Mr. Baehler brought three hundred of alfalfa hay to our office and out on May 27, the second cut on June 29, and the third on August 3. The fourth crop is growing, but slowly on account of the dry weather that prevailed during the last four or five weeks. The alfalfa brought in is from 24 to 29 inches high, each cut and grown on upland, without irrigation. He also informed us that he just hauled 29 1/2 bushels of clover seed from less than 11 acres, and raises on a farm that was practically abandoned and almost worthless when he got hold of it. Madison county needs a few more such farmers.

Essex Leader.

Rennis Brown, a young man who made his home with his sister, Mrs. Lawrence Wilkerson at Dudley, was killed by a through freight on the Iron Mountain railroad at Dudley about 4:00 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was known to have been drinking the night before and it is presumed that he started home and when he reached the section house on the west side of town within a few yards of his sister's home he sat down on the track and fell asleep. When his body was discovered the head was entirely severed from the body, and the breast and shoulders were badly bruised. Death must have been instantaneous.

A special from Cape Girardeau dated September 4, says: A. J. Rich, yardman at the Prison, at Chillicothe was instantly killed last night in the yards at that place. Rich was assisting in switching some stock and as he attempted to board a box car to put on the brakes, his wheel broke one of his legs and he fell under a moving train on another track. Two years passed before he was cut off the wire, and he, still clinging to the rail, was 20 years at Chillicothe when the children who knew him at Chillicothe were released in 1907. The remains were taken to his old home at Mount Vernon, Ill., this afternoon and will be buried there.

A company composed of South-east Missourians are now endeavoring to organize a security league in central and east of Missouri county. For the purpose of protecting the citizens they fully believe exists in that county. James H. Graessle of Hartsville, who owns a farm near Havi, is in receipt of a letter from parties interested in the league in which they state their desire to secure houses in the town of 100 acres. The organization will be organized at $25,000 and 25,000 shares will be distributed through out the district. Many houses have already been secured and the probabilities are that the organization will be perfected this coming year.

Fredericktown Democrat News.

William Stubbfield, the progressive Organ citizen who had petitions circulated all up and down the Iron Mountain railroad on the branch asking for another passenger train on this road, was in this city this week and told the D. N. that he had just returned from a visit to the officials of the Iron Mountain in regard to this matter and that they had assured him that the train would be put on inside of thirty days, that even now they were at work on the matter, but had not decided whether the new train will run at night or in the day time, but that they would surely give the people on the branch another train. Let us hope that none of the officials who are interested in this matter will die within the next thirty days and knock us out of the new train.
